It was fun, but back then we were already slightly frustrated at how little we felt Google promoted the service.

Server Header: Make sure your server does not return a redirect or misconfiguration.

it is not known how many pages or how long each visit will be but it is beneficial to make sure your content is as accessible as possible.

Search engine submission: Once you obtain links coming to your site; search engines will find you.

Then I can check the revision history and his comments and if needed, edit the chapter once more.

You can subscribe to the feed, send your tips by email, and join our forum!

Links: Getting thousands of links from unrelated sites or "link farms" will not help your rank and could hurt it.

For instance, yesterday I wrote a chapter on how to automatically add a linked Table of Contents to your Google document using a bookmarklet.

In some cases you can link your PPC ad to a page in your website - but, never link to the home page.

You bid for keywords or pay a fee and the search engine serves up your listing along with other results when a user enters a query.
